

Airzona's Bizarre and Beautiful Bugs

Aug. 25 - Nov. 2, 2006
Lower Level Gallery

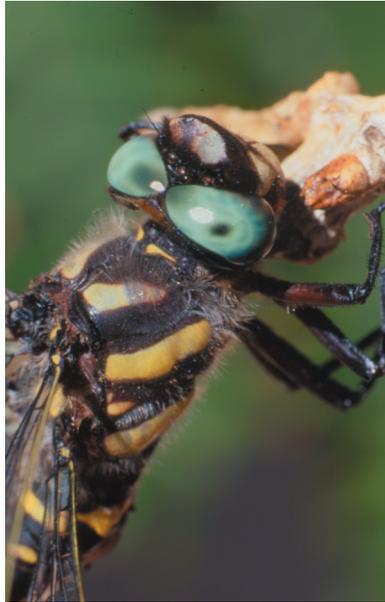

Silverspot fritillary

This traveling exhibit was created by Kim Wismann and introduces visitors to Arizona's rich natural endowment of arthropods.

The exhibit, more than 20 years in the making, features framed photos, books and mounted species in cases.

Most of the bugs on display are found in Arizona and the Southwest. However, some exotic bugs from South America and other continents also are featured.

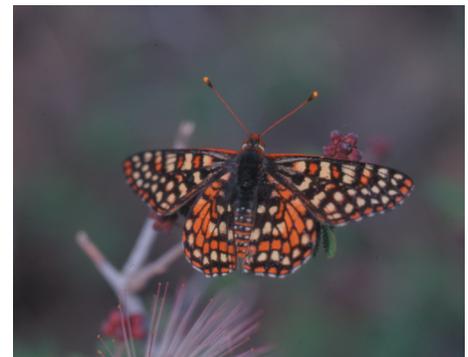

Flying adder

Rainbow grasshopper

Giant swallowtail

Chalcidon checkers
