Take a Walk on the Wild Side

Growl like a bear, whistle like a bird, dress up and pretend to be an animal.

Animals are such an important part of our lives that they seem to take on human characteristics. For many, animals are like family. They are everyday companions and can be a constant source of inspiration and fascination.

This exhibition takes a fun and colorful look at animals in action. The animal portrayals range from realistic to abstract, funny to serious and photographic to imaginary.
