

Xicanindio Artes: contemporary prints

July 2-Nov. 15, 2004
Library Second Floor Gallery

"Sacred Spirits" by Ruben Richards

Monotype and mono silkscreen prints reflective of the Latino/Chicano and American Indian experience promote cross-cultural understanding and highlight artists Ed Noisecat, David Manje, Ruben Richard, Liz Cheny, Dona Hernandez, Randy Kemp, Martin Moreno, Larry Yanez and Baje Whitethorne.

Xicanindio (pronounced shee-can-EEN-dee-oh) is a local arts organization that celebrated its 28th year of service to the community in 2004. It's goal is to foster and present indigenous art and culture to local audiences.

Xicanindio Artes, Inc. nourishes a greater appreciation of the spiritual and cultural heritages of the Latino and indigenous peoples of the Americas through the Arts: Xicanindio, provides services to artists and arts organizations, presents and produces programs for schools and communities throughout Arizona.
