

Tempe Teaches

Aug. 21 - Dec. 9, 2009

“Tempe Teaches” is an exhibition that focuses on Tempe-based artists and instructors who teach visual art to children and adults. Tempe continues to be a cultural resource for community members. The arts programs throughout the city of Tempe, school districts, Arizona State University and the local community colleges help extend resources to the broader Valley community.

Artists: Sue Canasi, multi-media, painting and metals (Mesa Community College); Mary Dietrich, tapestry weaving (Tempe Studio Artists Program); Emily Matyas, photography (Scottsdale Community College); Ellen Murray, watercolor (Arizona State University); John Risseeuw, printmaking (Arizona State University); Mary Stokrocki, colored pencil and illustration (Arizona State University); and Samuel Swail, sculpture and drawing (Tempe Studio Artists Program) and multi-media; Crystal Daigle, painting; Mark Klett, photography; Mary Bates Neubauer, sculpture and digital prints; and Rebecca Ross, photography and multi-media.

Sue Canasi: Dance of Nature

Emily Matyas: Untitled

Ellen Murray: Continuity in Space

About the exhibition space

The Gallery at the Vihel Center, recently refurbished, provides local artists an opportunity to display artwork and reach out to the Arizona community. The Vihel Center, 3340 S. Rural Road, holds a variety of Tempe classes including dance, music, theater and visual arts for children and adults year-round.