Agenda Item 3 – Community Forums

Tempe Police Chief Tom Ryff shared an update with the commission in regards to community forums. The idea was originally to get out and meet with the community. Currently, the Mesa Police Department is the only agency in the valley holding community forums. Mesa reports that they are struggling to get the community to participate.

At this time, Chief Ryff is not ready to move forward with having community forums without a purpose for them. There are several mechanisms in place currently for community members to interact with the Police Department, including presence at neighborhood meetings, partnerships and involvement with numerous community organizations. There is a lot of outreach going on that does not fall under the umbrella of community forums. Chief Ryff would like input from the commission about revisiting community forms if the need arises.

Commissioner Truxon shared that Tempe is a partner of the Healing Racism Series, in addition to other cities and organizations. Chair Byron sits on the Strategic Planning committee for the Tempe Community Council and they are working on a community forum about alcohol prevention for youth and invited the Police Department to get involved with that forum. Commissioner Zubair discussed a concern in the Muslim community with young men lacking a paternal presence in their lives; the community is talking with the Vice-Principal at Marcos about doing something through the school.

Agenda Item 4 – Cab Company Complaints

Srgt. Scott Smith briefed the commission about a complaint made by a taxicab driver regarding his company being cited when other cab companies were not. The issue was that current taxi zones on Mill Ave had recently been rezoned. There was an educational period of a few weeks before the enforcing began the weekend of July 19th. The sergeant of the bike squad went to the court reviewed all citations and found the claims to be unfounded.

Agenda Item 5 – Mason Murphy, Disability Commission Chair

Mason Murphy was recently elected the new chair of the Commission on Disability Concerns. Mason shared with the HRC the mission and purpose of the Disability Commission. He would like to be more proactive in addressing the concerns of the disabled community. He also shared the different subcommittees and their focus. Mason shared with the commission his personal story about his disability. Mason works at ASU as a program coordinator for international students.

Commissioner Paredes-Ewen thanked Mason for sharing the information with the HRC and encouraged him to please let the commission know they can help or partner together in the future.

Agenda Item 6 – Boards/Commission Orientation Script

Rosa Inchausti shared that Amy Douglass from the Museum has drafted changes to the script for the Boards/Commission Orientation video. Rosa suggested that all commissioners review the changes and discuss as a group at the September meeting. Commissioner Truxon commented that he reviewed them and he is impressed with the changes.
