1	Our neighborhood can be particularly difficult to meet people in due to the walls around the property. If you are a dog walker or walk through the neighborhood regularly you can meet people. I don't fall into either category and my direct neighbors are the same. Having activities in the park would break some of the isolation here and increase connectedness and relationships.	6/9/2019 7:29 AM

41	Would like to create permanent art. Not interested in temporary. Let's create memories that last. Possibly decorate the chain link fence, mural an alley wall that surrounds the park, or mosaic the irrigation standpipe in the park by the playground. We could do this to live music at the same time We are also well suited for an event. The Curry School parking lot is right next to the playground so food trucks could set up there. We have a nice dirt area-near the playground where a band could setup and play (with the pond as a backdrop). If we get out 2019 habitat and water quality grant, we could possibly have residents plant the plants during this event and maybe even get the Southwest Monarch to teach about butterflies	5/7/2019 10:40 AM
